The Gem

1931

Published by the Students of
Taylor University,
Upland, Indiana.

Dedication

To that spirit of Christian world conquest which impelled Bishop William Taylor in all his travel and labor, which has urged forward many graduates of Taylor University who are now laboring in foreign countries, and which is even now a potent influence among the students of this school, this book is dedicated.

Foreword

We believe that the Gem should above all other things remind the student of the most notable and most worthy part of the college year. Therefore we have attempted to perpetuate in this volume those things which reveal our good times, our pleasant associations, and something of the high idealistic spirit which has made this school year a time of profit and enjoyment to all of us.

The 1931 Gem Staff

Lack of credit where credit is due, is one of the sad features of being on the Gem Staff. The Staff works hard for a whole year with almost no recognition, to develop a book that will justly represent Taylor. We are taking this space to let the reading public know just what part each member of this staff played in making this Gem.

Marguerite Friel, as Associate Editor, took care of the faculty section besides keeping track of and checking up on the progress of the whole book. Marian Scott, the second Associate Editor, had her big job in reading proof returned from the printer.

As Class Editor, Ardath Kletzing collected the "classes" data and student directory.

The collecting of all the organization write-ups was done by Elsa Olson, the Organization Editor.

Alice Doolittle, the Art Editor, decided upon the art work for the book. She also carved the wood cuts for the major division pages.

Acting in the capacity of Literary Editor, John Rood supplied poetry and articles for the book, and corrected write-ups to the right length for the printer.

The Snapshot section, Senior snaps, and calendar were in charge of Margaret Wolf. She and Nathan Tyler worked together on this part and the Humor section.

Ray Norton, the college photographer, took all pictures for the book which were not supplied by Hoff's Studio.

The most constant worker on the staff perhaps has been Carl Hawkes, the Business Manager. The Editor takes this chance to express appreciation for the big part Carl played in making the book a financial success.

Hoover Picklesimer, the Advertising Manager, developed the blotter and got the ads for the book. 3,000 letters were sent out for ads and signatures. His assistant and chauffeur was Joe Severn.

Wallace Fritts ran off the letters on the multigraph, and mailed books to outside customers.

The Staff Secretary was Ruth Mersereau.

Judge: "Court come to order."

"Guilty or not guilty?"

Defendant: "Of what, Judge?"

Judge: "I dunno—what's the charges, officer?"

Officer: "Chasing butterflies in study hours."

Judge: "Guilty or not?"

Defendant: "Not guilty, judge."

Judge: "Court dismissed until next time."

And this is our Student Council—a unique organization. Although our school boasts of many organizations, each carrying out a purpose, the object of the Student Council is "different." It is still an infant and has no definite power, no duties in the normal operation of the college; but it seeks to present the students' point of view, to create closer co-operation and friendly relationship between student and faculty, and to promote the general welfare of the school. The council is composed of representatives from each class, elected by popular vote. The presidency of the council is held by the Senior representative.

DR. B. W. AYRES, VICE-PRESIDENT

DR. JOHN PAUL, PRESIDENT

DEAN HOWARD

The deans of Taylor, with their interest and understanding of youth, are a source of real help and inspiration to all Taylor students. They are always willing to give advice and assistance to those who wish it. They have won the cordial good will and co-operation of everyone on Taylor's campus.

DEAN VANDAMENT

DR. SAUCIER

DR. SHUTE

Dr. Shute, head of the theology department, ably upholds the Christian standards of Taylor, and is a splendid example to young ministers. Professor Cline has taught us to love and appreciate literature. Professor Greer is one of the most popular professors on Taylor's campus.

PROFESSOR CLINE

PROFESSOR GREER

We are grateful to Miss Bothwell for the matchless lyceum numbers she brings us. She does her part in keeping us interested in fine music. What would we do without Professor Wells to lead singing in chapel? We certainly enjoy hearing his excellent voice when he honors us with it. Wasn't "Blue Beard" simply great? Miss Meloy made it possible for us. It was through her pep and guidance that the girls worked on it so faithfully.

We see little of Miss Miller, since her work is mostly with the children, but we do love their recitals. They can perform as well as the grown-up musicians. Mrs. Doris Paul has been a welcome addition to our music department. She assisted with the operetta, and has also organized some delightful quartets.

SUSAN B. GIBSON

GEORGE FENSTERMACHER

Modern languages at Taylor are what they should be, alluring, popular, and profitable. Miss Gibson, with her soft accents, makes France truly a cultural subject. Professor Elliott's residence in South America and his first-hand knowledge of Spanish may have something to do with the popularity of his classes. Professor Fenstermacher, besides teaching German capably has time to give violin instruction and to direct our orchestra, string quartets and The Little Symphony.

During the middle ages a man who knew Latin and Greek was an educated man. Now we realize that these subjects have an important historical value for us, besides the taste of classical literature they give us. Both Mrs. Jones and Dr. Evans are well versed in their subjects. Dr. Evans also serves as registrar.

GEORGE EVANS
A.M., D.D.

MARY F. JONES, A.M.

We are glad to welcome Professor Furbay back after his leave of absence. With him he brought many new and interesting ideas which have livened up the science department immensely. Professor Bush and Mr. Ritchie have had as their aims the enriching of the science courses. We compliment them on their success. The gift of the senior class of 1930—some very fine equipment for the science department—has done its part to make the courses enjoyable and practical.

History and mathematics are still two of the principal courses offered in college. Professor Bramlett has not forgotten that the true aim of the history department is not only to teach history, but also show his students its relation to present-day world problems. Miss Draper cares for those students who are interested in higher mathematics.

BARTON REES POGUE

WILSON B. PAUL
A.B.

A.W. CROSSMAN
A.M.

Are you planning to preach, teach, or go into business? The Speech Department has courses of instruction of practical help for you. Under the supervision of Professor Pogue and Mr. Wilson Paul, interesting study in interpretative reading, fundamentals of speech, debating, oratory, impersonation and producing, is offered. Art education has a broader meaning for us today than formerly. Professor Crossman has developed a flexible curriculum to care for individual needs.

Home Economics is an important study for girls, whether they take only a few hours' work, or whether they major in this field. Miss Dare gives the girls valuable training in sewing, cooking, and costume designing. Miss Guiler serves us quietly and patiently, and we know her aid and administration in the library are invaluable.

IRMA DARE, A.B.

IVEL GUILER, A.B.

While we are working away at our studies, there are several individuals who are working constantly for our welfare and for the administration of the affairs of the school. Mr. Douglas is our endowment secretary. He it is that manages the gifts to our school. Were you ever ill while here at Taylor? Miss Howard cared for you as patiently and as untiringly as your own mother would have. Miss Stephens is secretary to Dr. Paul. Mr. Bishop is in charge of the finances of our school, and is also head of the physical training department.

CLASSES

Post-Graduates

"For we are laborers together with God." I Corinthians 3:9.

This twentieth century demands laborers who are firmly established believers and stalwart defenders of the Christian faith.

In view of this tremendous need, these students have answered the call of God, and have come to Taylor to prepare for Christian Service.

Four are planning to be preachers or missionaries, and one will enter the field of Christian Education. Two of these graduates, Mrs. A. Lincoln Shute and Mrs. J. Arthur Howard, wives of two of Taylor's professors, have a desire for further knowledge and more study. They are faithfully laboring for the cause of Christ and His Kingdom here on our campus.

The following, which was written by one of our members, is the testimony of all. "I came to Taylor because I felt that here there would be Christian Education with proper emphasis. After studying in other schools, I feel that Taylor has a number of professors who are unexcelled in their departments, and have besides, spiritual vision and zeal. There is a sense of values at Taylor. She is progressive but not radical; with a scientific spirit but a balance and levelheadedness that hold it true to ideals and realities, and lead on to progressive life, seeking the fullness of great living.

DR. PAUL RETIRES

Dr. Robert Lee Stuart, we extend to you a greeting and salutation as you come to us to fulfill the needs of Taylor in this new crisis. This Gem staff feels honored to greet a new president and at the same time present a few words in appreciation of the retiring administration.

In 1922, Dr. John Paul, then Vice President of Asbury College, gave up his plans for a world tour to undertake a new work as President of Taylor University.

The administration of Dr. Paul entered upon an era of building and improvement which resulted in the construction of the new and unsurpassed Magee-Campbell-Wisconsin dormitory, and later, the new Maytag gymnasium, besides numerous other improvements, especially the beautiful landscaping of the campus and the planting of the artistic shrubbery.

During these nine years the sunken garden, the new athletic field and tennis courts, and all west campus improvements have come to be realities. The library has shown a 50% increase in the number of books with a greater proportion of new books. The office equipment and accounting facilities have been improved. Of course, many others, both students and faculty, had a part in the projection and carrying out of these changes and improvements. The credit the administration deserves, is for the establishing of incentive and confidence and maintaining the harmony which stimulates progress.

In the year 1923-24 "The Legal Hundred of Taylor University" was organized by Dr. Paul. This governing unit was organized after the pattern left by John Wesley in England. The general educational standard in curricula has been raised, and with this change came our present faculty of specially trained and fully qualified teachers. The result has been that the college has steadily grown in the esteem of the educational departments of the various States, reaching a climax in 1930 when the State of Indiana gave Taylor the rating of a standard college.

The nine Senior Classes of Dr. Paul's administration total approximately 343 students. The healthy growth of the educational program of the college is indicated by the steady increase in the number in the successive graduating classes.

Dr. Paul's ministry for Taylor on the public platform has covered an extensive territory, and has been a real asset to the institution. The demands for his lectures and sermons have been widespread; speaking for his popularity and the confidence and esteem of the people at large.

Dr. Paul has given our beloved school nine of the choice years of his life. He leaves for us greatly augmented assets, fine equipment, an unexcelled faculty and general good will, and then to put the finishing touch to these splendid contributions, he foresaw the future needs of the school and recommended to the elective body the best man he knew to take up the load and carry on to new achievements.

We stop to salute you, Dr. Paul, in appreciation of your labors for us and to acknowledge our indebtedness to you and to assure you of our love and devotion.

Seniors

Not without effort and a striving will
Have we attained thus far upon our way;
Not without joy do we look forward still
Toward new achievements in a future day.

SENIOR SAGACITY

Joy or woe? Both. It is wonderful to be Seniors, but it is not so nice at that! For, you see, we have enjoyed ourselves so much during our college career that the thought of leaving dear old T. U. doesn't delight us as much as it might.

It all began back in the fall of '27 when we arrived on the campus in the green state—oh, about as green as most Freshmen, you know—or perhaps a little greener. (However, we were very oblivious to that fact!) We did our best to let folks know that we knew what it was all about. We "butted in" on the Sophomore reception for the Seniors, which really wasn't any of our business, but which, nevertheless, created a diversion! Also, it might be said that we then established our reputation for doing the unheard-of-thing. The greatest accomplishment of the year was, of course, winning the "Echo" contest. And the fireworks with which we celebrated were better than any "Fourth"!

As Sophomores, we felt that we sufficiently and efficiently filled those gallon-lids. The plans that emanated therefrom were huge, to say the least, and the fact that all of them did not materialize, in no way impaired the ideas! But the Seniors received their reception, anyway! And Easter was a more wonderful day than hitherto because of the Sophomore carols and the Sophomore breakfast.

Now, being a Junior carries with it some responsibility, so, forthwith, we left our childish toys behind us, and gravely set about the task of devising a set of Junior rules. It was a gala year, climaxed by our much anticipated Junior-Senior banquet in the Masonic Temple at Muncie.

And then Seniority! What joy at last to be a Senior! What wearer of the Purple and White will ever forget the hammering of his heart as he waited in the dark wood on the night of September 29 for the lights of the buses to appear? Or who will forget that triumphant feeling of a perfect take-off and no hitch in the plans? The trip to Mammoth Cave was the best Sneak Day ever yet devised, we are thoroughly convinced.

In the interclass basket ball tournament, we reluctantly relinquished the boys' trophy cup, which we won last year, but we proudly gained the girls' cup.

Once more, in the course of events, we lived up to our reputation of being different, and we presented our Class Gift at the beginning of the year instead of waiting until Commencement. Every Senior feels the pride of ownership when he gazes at the basket ball floor in the Maytag gymnasium.

Our college career has been one not only of good times, but it has been a time of spiritual growth. The Sunday afternoon prayer meetings are ones we shall never forget. They are times when we draw nearer to each other and to God.

Now, as the year draws to a close, we look back over the four happy years spent on Taylor campus; we smile and we sigh. We are sorry to leave. It has been good to have been here.

Juniors

We hold the key of knowledge in our hands,
And use it well to do what we must do
Before our time in this or other lands
To unlock stored-up wisdom, old and new.

JUNIOR HISTORY

On entering the gates of Taylor, we were aware that a new life for us had begun. Success smiled on our class from that first day, and we are now proud to claim the distinction of being Juniors.

Those Freshman days stand out as best. That reception given in "our" honor—what a time we had! We were told that it was stylish to come late. Five minutes after the announced hour, in we went, ready for the occasion. We marched along the receiving line and then discovered that we were the first to arrive. How would you feel, if guest of honor, to be the first one there? Well, we didn't know any better.

In a week, we were organized and produced a baseball team capable of thrashing the other classes. Those beaten teams called it luck, but what did we care, for we were having the time of our lives. It wasn't all luck either, for in the Winter term we won the basketball championship by smashing the Sophs 23 to 19.

Do you remember that first Sneak Day? Well we do, and we learned quite a lot, but the Sophs didn't teach us any of it. Although the Seniors got away all right, we stood around and did what the Sophs told us to when the Seniors came back.

In the fall of '29 many of our number were missing. We still had that pep and fight, so we started out "to do things up brown." "Sophomore", according to the Greek students, means "foolish." People can be foolish, and still be wide awake and full of ideas. Now it happened that we were full of ideas and wide awake too. These two are very seldom found in one class, but we are proud to boast that we had both.

What other Sophomore class has ever "bawled up" Sneak Day like we did? We were even a day ahead of time and escorted the Seniors to their breakfast. Oh yes, and those buns and bananas were mighty good, too. Two whole nights of vigil and we were rewarded by sending off Gomer and his class instead of letting them sneak away in silence. They couldn't have had any more fun on that Sneak Day than we had sending them off on their memorable trip.

What a time we had at the Boy Scout Camp one night in April! It was our Spring get-together. Everything went fine until we started back. How many cars were able to make the trip?

The fall of '30 found us in the dignified position of Juniors. We upheld the Junior tradition of successfully sending off the Seniors on their Sneak Day—although even we didn't know they were going.

Then came the Junior Rules. Ahem! We bossed and ordered, and even told the faculty what they could do. Were the rules enforced? Well, ask any of the violaters.

We didn't have a Junior-Senior banquet this year because of the financial crisis, but we gave the Seniors something to remember anyway.

Next year we will be Seniors. Keep your eyes and ears open—things are going to happen.

Sneak Day! An all night outing, waiting for the busses of Seniors. They came; we escorted them back. Tired the next day! Underclassmen? Ask the Dean!

Of course the one big event we looked forward to was the Junior-Senior banquet. All preparations and arrangements were made, and we were anxiously "biding the time," when the Seniors offered to sacrifice the pleasure of this traditional affair in the interest of the financial status of their Alma Mater. Consequently the Junior banquet dues were turned over to the school treasury.

On the evening of March 21 we walked in on our class sponsor for a birthday surprise party. All dignity had been left at the dorm and a "good time was had by all." In appreciation of his splendid co-operation and willingness in permitting us to do things without his consent, we presented him with a brief case which "certainly was great," so he said.

Then on the second of May we had an outing for the Seniors at Laughing Water Lodge. Plenty of "beans", speeches, songs, jokes, etc.

"In spring when friendships fonder grow" we had a Junior breakfast at the Glens. The hike whetted our appetites to the point where we could really appreciate "much eats."

Well, Seniors-in-the-embryo, come back next year and we'll see how much more we can add to our annals by the end of our college career. P. S. Don't forget to bring a little dignity along.

UNDERCLASSMEN

The class of thirty-three has proved to be past the verdant age, and is complete in all a Sophomore's guise. Of course, some Nile green Frosh may remind you that "Sophomore" means Wise Fool, but—he isn't even that far yet. The Sophs first established their claim for second year notoriety when they made such a good representation on Senior Skip Day. Avidly led by the Clymer Pontiac, the eluded thirdclassmen left their mark in the form of several airless tires, on the panorama of that riotous trip of the dignitaries to Mammoth Cave. Don't overlook the fact that the Sophomores are well represented on the school social register, and a winning element in the school cannot be found without a Soph in evidence. The high standing of the class in the basket-ball series; the And-How-ling success of the class party; the Easter breakfast, are all representative of the importance and smooth functioning of the Sophomore cog on the wheel of Taylor life—not to mention the sleepy seven forty-five looks, and intellect-laden recitations among the activities of the "duo-annums."

Under the influence of all those story book ideals of College Joe, and the parting with mothers who picked up after them, the greenest of green freshmen were introduced into the mysteries of dormitory life, term papers, and an environment in which the individual is cared for. The fatigue of the faculty receiving line at the fall mixer served to break the ice, and with class officers elected, and other preliminaries out of the way, the frosh began to learn to affect interest in "olive-bottle" chapel speeches, accumulated noon lunches, and co-eds. As we go to press this group of embryonic collegiates is full of first year ego from the encouragement of inter-class basketball laurels, English six grades, and the democracy that is uniquely Taylor's. But Sophomoric tendencies can not sanction such, and with a background of grass green, next year's halls will find them—under the balcony in chapel.

Early in the fall term the group of invincibles banded themselves together under the leadership of Champion, and set out with a "hashy" constituency to make themselves in more ways than one "special" students. Of them it cannot be said that "One never misses the water until the well runs dry." They have been an important factor in many enlistments, and have co-operated at every chance. They gave the necessary backing for the Frosh in chapel, and contributed admirably to the Echo contest. The class may be an assembled piece of work, but there's nothing like being cosmopolitan. And another point to remember is that a Frosh generally is next a Soph, but who knows what a Special will be next?

Yes, we're a few
bums off on a holiday.
You will notice a couple of Sophs thought
they would join the party. And it was just for Seniors. All aboard!
Over the top. And just talking. Are these three supposed to be Seniors too? We Seniors think it was the best Sneak
Day ever. And I guess
it was—up to the present, at least.

Bishop Taylor Orators

From the members of the class in Speech Composition, including George Breaden, Harry Griffiths, Alvah Harrison, Hayden Huff, James Lohnes, Roy Smith, Owen Shields, and Carlton Long, Professor Pogue chose the Bishop William Taylor orators for the second of May, 1931. In other years the Speech Department has organized a special class for the sole purpose of preparing the contest entrants, but this year, though others have been invited, those persons studying speech analysis, composition, and delivery were especially prepared for the grand prize contest.

Beginning with the study of persuasion and style, the men came up through the analysis of standard orations, the study of the life of Bishop Taylor, the writing of original manuscripts, and finally, delivery. This year's contest was held in commemoration of Bishop Taylor's one hundred tenth birthday, and proved to be an inspirational contribution to the life of the school.

Though Philo strive with Thalo now and then,
And club debaters argue back and forth,
Yet all our strife is truly worthy when
We recognize the other fellow's worth.

THALOS

"Know Thyself"—and with this motto unto which to strive, each member of the Thalonian Literary Society becomes a worthy representative of what college men and women should be. Polish and poise which are expected of college students become an integral part of the intellectual equipment of each loyal Thalonian.

Always present in our midst has been that indescribable something which is called the "Thalonian Spirit." It has carried the wearers of the Black and Orange ever onward to success.

Sixth row: Wildermuth; Witner; Worth; Young.

THALOS

The Thalonians have determined to hold high the standards of the literary programs. The excellence and dignity of the Christmas Pageant will not soon be forgotten.

Thalonian athletes have enjoyed the keen competition of our sister society. It has always been the purpose of the society to sponsor a spirit of fair play and good sportsmanship.

The spring inter-society contests have always provided a fine measure of the attainments of the society members in the fine arts.

PHILOS

When school opened in September the Thalos and the Philos were right on the job. At first the new students were simply in a maze; then the personalities of the societies began to stand out and the new students made their decisions. The "Lovers of Truth" are proud of every new member.

The Philaethean Literary Society (and its sister society as well) assists in bringing out the best there is in each member. The society seeks also to cultivate a spirit of true sportsmanship and an appreciation of the fine arts.

PHILOS

The members of the Philaethean Literary Society look proudly back over the past, always remembering, however, that the future is before them. They have won honorably and lost nobly, and each victory or defeat has served as a stepping stone to greater work in the future.

If we are proud of our past, let us strive to make the future still more wonderful. Success follows hard work, and that success will be made more noble through effort combined with the ideal of being Lovers of Truth.

Mnanka Debating Club

Fifty earnest Weavers of Knowledge, fifty wearers of the orange and white, fifty loyal members seeking to prepare themselves in a bigger way for life through the opportunities the club offers—such compose the Mnanka Debating Club.

The Mnankas feel that this year progress has been made toward a bigger and better club. A note of formalism has long been the distinguishing feature of the Mnankas. The Mnankas feel that some training in the formal affairs is necessary in college life. To fulfill this need this year the Mnankas gave a formal tea for the reception of new girls in the fall term.

Rush Day between the two clubs was abolished. The new girls who wished to become members applied for admission. Those who joined the Mnankas will not soon forget the impressive candle-light service when the candidates were accepted into full membership by Dr. Ayres, the Mnanka advisor.

Although the club was forced to relinquish the Championship banner this year at the annual clash between the two clubs, the Mnankas feel that they have made progress in debating also. Six of the eight Inter-collegiate Debaters were Mnankas.

Soangetaha Debating Club

In the fall of 1913 Miss Sadie Miller, then preceptress, summoned the girls to the Speicher parlors for the purpose of organizing the first girls' debating club of Taylor University. The girls were exceedingly anxious to do this since the boys already had two clubs while the girls had none.

After being duly organized the first question of importance was to decide on a name. "Soangetaha," which means "strong-hearted," seemed the most fitting because maidens with strong hearts are necessary in combat on the debating field.

The next few years were spent in preparation for the forensic conflicts soon to take place. When all was in preparedness, these strong-hearted maidens marched forth to victory and set the pace for their fellow clubs by defeating the proud gentlemen debaters of the school. Since that time the Mnanka Debating Club has been organized, and friendly rivalry has come into its own.

In the fall of 1930 there were 38 "Strong-hearted Maidens" in the tribe of Soangetaha.

What have we to offer? The Eulogonian Debating Club stands ready to fill a need touched by no other department in Taylor University, in a way that will enable every member to make a greater contribution to the world of his day.

The primary object of the Club is to provide practical training in debating and parliamentary procedure. By means of varied and interesting kinds of debates, and intelligently conducted parliamentary drill, every member is enabled to receive this training. And what is more, its good effects are apparent not only in those Eulogonians who represent Taylor in inter-collegiate debate, but also in each member of the club. Many have overcome their faults of speech and manner to gain, instead, mastery and ease.

Thus, realizing the needs of Taylor men, and striving to fill the need cared for by no other department in Taylor University, the Eulogonian Debating Club offers practical training in extemporaneous speaking and debate, and the study and application of correct parliamentary procedure. These, we believe, are necessary for a complete and well-proportioned education.

Eureka Debating Club

To be a Eureka is to know "I have found it." The Eureka Debating Club welcomes into its membership all those who are interested in attaining the aims of the premier debating clubs in Taylor University as set forth in the preamble to its constitution:

"To teach the art of public speaking, develop the powers of logical reasoning, impart some knowledge of parliamentary law, stimulate the desire for research, and in every way possible to better fit its members to fight life's battle and to be more efficient servants of the Master." To these aims the club has adhered in the past and shall continue to adhere.

Due to the elimination of "Rush Day" from our program, membership in the club has grown more voluntary and hence more selective. Partially due to this fact, the work of the past year has progressed more smoothly and efficiently, and with a greater degree of excellence.

After attending and taking part in the activities of the club, one is impressed by the personal interest taken in each member and the dignity with which it carries out its programs.

Parmi les activités des étudiants au collège se trouve le cercle français, qui offre aux membres le moyen de faire un usage vivant de la langue qu'ils étudient en classe.

Quand on entend les histoires qui sont racontées par des élèves, les chansons chantées par tout le monde, quand on jouit les jeux tout en français, on oublie sa timidité et commence à apprécier avec ses amis la belle langue de Victor Hugo.

Dans notre Cercle sont les étudiants des classes de français et ceux qui aiment parler et qui comprennent cette langue.

De la soirée en Octobre à la dernière séance l'entérêt a été soutenu. La première présidente, Lois King, et plus tard la seconde, Carol Vandersall, en effet, tous les membres, chacun a fait de son mieux pour rendre utiles et intéressantes les programmes que des personnes désignées ont procurées.

Le Cercle a pris un abonnement à "La Revue Moderne," publiée à dans la bibliothèque.

Tous sont joints à crier: "Vive le Cercle français."

The Science Club, organized in 1928, has grown in its interests until it includes everything from bacteria to the discovery of new planets. Its mission to the student is to keep him awake and informed along matters of vital interest and consequence in a fast and changing world. It draws its members from all the various branches of science into a common organization, whose monthly club meetings stimulate scientific interest, and disseminate a wealth of varied information to the many who avail themselves of these privileges.

The introduction of visual education by means of slides and films has increased the interest in these meetings, and, together with its other activities, it fills a real need in the extra-curricular activities of Taylor. The operation of the moving picture projector, and the selection and supervision of the educational films are under the direction of Professor Furbay. To him is due the credit for the new and more wide-spread interest in the club by our student body.

Professors and students specializing in the departments of the sciences give demonstrations and lectures, interspersed with plenty of wit and humor to keep things lively.

Typewriting Department

The present Typewriting Department of Taylor University was organized three years ago, under the leadership of Miss Ruby Nutting, and a year following that a Shorthand Department, teaching the Gregg System, was established. There has been a continual growth and interest manifested in this field, and it appears that the students, especially the preachers and teachers, see their need of this as many are applying themselves very diligently and earnestly in this direction.

In the teaching of these subjects, Taylor is again showing herself apt in keeping in line with present requirements.

The most recent methods in teaching both typewriting and shorthand are used, and the student is thus enabled to obtain a commercial course, and at the same time pursue his college subjects.

The Kinaesthetic Method of Typewriting is taught, based entirely upon psychological theory, and this system has won wide recognition for its remarkable results. The time-saving Gregg System of shorthand is Taylor's standard in shorthand instruction. These methods show that Taylor is right up with her sister colleges.

Girls' House Officers

It was the Christmas season. A roaring wood fire crackled up the chimney of the fireplace in Campbell parlor. Near by was a beautiful, lighted Christmas tree. And gathered all about, perched on arms of davenports and chairs, or sitting on the floor, were the girls of Campbell and Magee Halls. All were whole-heartedly participating in a comb chorus. Never was there such a rendering of "Jingle Bells." And then because the Spirit of Christmas was present, the gayety of "Jingle Bells" gave way to a more reverent singing of the long loved Christmas carols.

Just such fireside meetings as the one described are planned frequently by the House President, her helpers and Dean Vandament. The purpose of these meetings is to bring about a friendly relationship between the girls and their Dean. Each meeting has its own little surprise feature, sometimes a stunt or program; occasionally some light refreshments. At nearly all, the girls enjoy a good sing and Dean Vandament gives a few pointers in helping the girls to better understand the rules of the school and their duty to stand by them.

Professor Pogue directed two separate casts in the presentation of The Rock, a Biblical drama by Mary P. Hamlin, depicting the life of Simon Peter. The play was given many places and proved to be inspiring to the people for whom it was given and to the players themselves.

DREAM ON

SADIE LOUISE MILLER

Dream on nor doubt, if vision bright
Has come to you on mountain height.
With Hope's glad wings your dream pursue
Till it becomes a prayer for you
To One who knows your cause is right.

Dream on, till dream and prayer incite
Ambition to help win the fight
And bring reality to view.
Dream on nor doubt.

Dream on, dream greater things, despite
The jeers of comrades who benight
Your loftiest ambitions; who
Would criticize, condemn, undo.
To Him who wins your cause indite
Dream on nor doubt.

Radical changes have been taking place in the last two or three years in the offerings of the Taylor University Department of Speech. During the ten years of Professor Pogue's direction, the work in speech has been changing from courses in elocution to include classes in Public Speaking and Dramatics with particular emphasis upon the fundamentals of Speech, Oral Reading, Argumentation and Debate. The hope was to serve the needs of the large group of ministerial students in the school.

Over a two year period, 1931-32, 1932-33, still further offerings of new subjects will be made, including courses in the Teaching of Speech, the Psychology of Speech Education, Speech Correction, Persuasion, Forms of Public Address, the History of American Oratory, Oratory, Biblical Poetry, Victorian Poetry, American Poetry, and the Coaching of Debate.

Under the direction of Wilson Paul, intercollegiate debate has received a fine impetus. Taylor men and women now have the privilege of being inducted into the honorary debate fraternity, Alpha Sigma Phi.

Varsity Debaters

Last year Taylor University women did not participate in intercollegiate debating. Therefore, during the winter of this school year, eight women with no previous experience in intercollegiate forensics, debated the Indiana Debating League topic: Resolved that collegiate social fraternities should be abolished. Mr. Wilson Paul, assistant professor in the Speech Department, very ably coached the two teams.

February twenty-first marked the opening of a series of four dual debates. Both teams lost to the Earlham college women. On February twenty-third the negative composed of the Misses Lois King, Helen Ehrich, Marian Derby, and Ethelyn Cochrane lost to the affirmative team of North Manchester College. On February twenty-fourth the affirmative team composed of the Misses Marguerite Deyo, Eunice Davis, Marguerite Friel and Alice Bissell began their group of three victories. They won from North Manchester, Indiana Central, and Franklin Colleges. On March thirteenth the negative team won its only victory, at Franklin College.

The girls feel that they were repaid tenfold for every minute of hard work spent on that interesting topic.

With four debaters as a foundation for the teams of next year, Taylor can look forward to an interesting and profitable season in Women's Intercollegiate debating.

Varsity Debaters

The 1931 season of debates for men was a successful one in every way. More men turned out for the winter try-outs than formerly, and a large and gratifying number of "forensic frays" was encountered. Two different questions were debated, one before the holidays and one after.

The first question, "Resolved: That the United States government should enact legislation providing for compulsory unemployment insurance," involved four non-decision conflicts; one for each team, negative and affirmative, with Manchester College and Miami University.

The second question for men was not dealt with until after the holidays. It was, "Resolved: That upon the declaration of war with another country, our government use only conscripted wealth to pay the expenses involved in the war." Conflicts on this question were engaged in thirteen times, seven by the affirmative and six by the negative. Four of them were decision bouts, and the Taylor men brought into the home camp half of that number in victories. On this question the following schools were met: Earlham, Anderson, Indiana State Normal, Valparaiso, Manchester, Goshen, Wabash, and Rose Polytechnic Institute.

The school of Music, one of the strongest departments of Taylor University, has in the last few years doubled its enrollment, under the efficient direction of Professor Bothwell. Its high standing is attracting talented students from all parts of the country.

The faculty, which has gained an enviable reputation, is composed of the following artists and instructors: Theodora Bothwell, Director, Piano and Organ; Kenneth H. Wells, Voice; Doris Atkinson-Paul, Voice; George Fenstermacher, Violin and Theory; Elizabeth Meloy, Public School Music; Sadie Louise Miller, Piano.

Besides the work in applied music, there are many organizations and ensemble groups which contribute much to the musical life of the college. These are: the Choral Society, with Professor Wells as leader, which gives three standard cantatas each year; the Orchestra, directed by Professor Fenstermacher; the String Quartet; and the Women's and the Men's Glee Clubs. Vocal quartets, under Mrs. Paul, have this year outnumbered those in previous years.

The weekly recitals, of inestimable value to the students of music, attract many students from the College of Liberal Arts.

There are three musical events at Taylor that we look forward to each year with an unusual degree of interest. These are the public programs of the Taylor University Choral Society. The presentation of three of the most outstanding cantatas each year—one at Christmas, one on Good Friday or Easter Sunday, and one at the commencement season—has become a tradition at Taylor that means much to the musical and cultural life of the school.

"The Manger Throne," a Christmas cantata by R. M. Stultz, was presented on the last Sunday afternoon before the Christmas holidays. "Olivet to Calvary" was given on Good Friday with Mrs. Doris Paul conducting. The number chosen for the commencement season this year is that perennial favorite, "The Holy City" by Gaul.

Professor Kenneth Wells is the director of the Choral Society and Professor Theodora Bothwell is the organist. Through their efforts in rehearsals throughout the year and the co-operation of the splendid personnel of the organization it has been possible to maintain the same high degree of excellence that has characterized the activities of the Choral Society in other years.

Girls' Glee Club

Although an infant of scarcely two years, the Girls' Glee Club has grown robustly and expresses itself lustily! Miss Meloy professes herself as being proud of her prodigy, and incidentally the Glee Club seems proud of its conductor. And well it may! Miss Meloy has been on Taylor campus but two years, but in that time she has made herself well-nigh indispensable.

The crowning event of the year for the Glee Club was, of course, the operetta, "Blue Beard." Who will soon forget the ferocity which Helen Trout developed at the same time she acquired her beard? Or who fails to remember with mirth the antics of Addle-Wit, otherwise known as "Foxy?" We must not forget to mention the Professors Doris and Wilson Paul who were such a help with the operetta. And Mrs. William McNeil has proved herself an able accompanist.

Nor is the Glee Club a one-talented child. It has a repertoire including both sacred and secular numbers, and has been able to perform for a variety of programs, from Sunday Chapel services to concerts. Truly, the Girls' Glee Club is a real addition to the School of Music. Long may it prosper!

Men's Glee Club

Twenty picked male voices from Taylor's student body form the popular ensemble known as the Taylor University Men's Glee Club. This organization has found pleasure in giving pleasure to others in its various public performances through the year. These have included chapel appearances, radio broadcasting, rally day services in the interest of Taylor University, and the annual concert of the year.

This concert program was presented from memory and included in its first group numbers by Palestrina, Bach, and Handel. The second group was made up of some of the most popular folk songs of various nations, including "The Song of the Volga Boatmen." The final group was by modern composers, and included Protheroe's "Shadow March," "The Old Refrain" by Kreisler, and "The Sleigh" by Kountz. The program was rounded out by the singing of that most masculine of compositions, "The Soldier's Chorus" from Faust by Gounod. The Glee Club was ably assisted in this recital by the Taylor University String Quartet.

This fine group of men singers is under the direction of Professor Kenneth Wells and his assistant, Mrs. Doris Paul. Miss Faith Birdsall is the efficient accompanist.

The Taylor Orchestra

The orchestra of Taylor University has been one of the unique musical organizations of the school for a number of years. It gives an opportunity to all instrumentalists of at least average ability to enjoy ensemble playing and to become acquainted with some of the standard orchestral compositions.

The orchestra has held regular weekly rehearsals during the past year. The faithfulness of its members to this rehearsal in the face of many things which would divert has been a thing of note and has been a large factor in the success which the orchestra attained.

Besides appearing at chapel services the orchestra gave an excellent account of itself in the annual recital. A smaller group, known to the campus, is the string quartet. This has proved to be a very popular organization and has furnished music for a large number of gatherings.

Art Students

"In America, or in any country, greatness in Art will not be attained by the possession of canvases in palatial museums, by the purchase and bodily owning of art. The greatness can only come by the art spirit entering into the very life of the people, not as a thing apart, but as the greatest essential of life to each one. It is to make every life productive of lights—a spiritual influence. It is to enter government and the whole material existence as the essential influence, and it alone will keep government straight, and wars and strife; do away with material greed.

When America is an art country there will not be three or five or seven arts, but there will be a thousand of arts, or the one art, the art of life manifesting self in every work of man, be it painting or whatever. We will then have to give in kind what we get for what we get and every man will be a true enrichment to the other."

HUSTLE AND GRIN

Smile and the world smiles with you;
"Knock," and you go it alone.
For the cheerful grin will let you in
Where the kicker is never known.

Growl and the way looks dreary,
Laugh and the path is bright;
For a welcome smile brings sunshine while
A frown shuts out the light.

Sigh, and you "rake in" nothing,
Work and the prize is won;
For the nervy man with the backbone can
By nothing be outdone.

Hustle! and fortune awaits you;
Shirk! and defeat is sure;
For there is no chance of deliverance
For the chap who can't endure.

Sing, and the world's harmonious;
Grumble, and things go wrong.
And all the time you are out of rhyme
With the busy, hustling, throng.

Kick, and there's trouble brewing;
Whistle and life is gay,
And the world's in tune, like a day in June,
And the clouds all melt away.

LIVING

To touch the cup with eager lips and taste, not drain it;
To woo and tempt and court a bliss—and not attain it;
To fondle and caress a joy, yet hold it lightly,
Lest it become necessity and cling too tightly;
To watch the sun set in the West without regretting;
To hail its advent in the East—the night forgetting;
To smother care in happiness and grief in laughter;
To hold the present close—not questioning the hereafter;
To have enough to share—to know the joy of giving;
To thrill with all the sweets of life—is living. —Anonymous.

Young People's Gospel League

The Young People's Gospel League was organized at the convention which was met in Chicago in the fall of 1928. The purpose of this organization is to spread the Scriptural Holiness among young people by various means. The annual conventions hold inspiring addresses, enthusiastic testimonies and fervent prayers.

The work of the League for the past year is very encouraging. Through the Missionary Department "Bountiful Grace," the native worker under the National Holiness Mission in China, has been supported. Also in the Ministerial department a move for evangelism in the homeland was made. Many souls were reached through the Gospel Teams, and there is sufficient enthusiasm to repeat the work next summer with increase. Two new chapters have been formed, one at Akron, Ohio, and one at Wooster, Ohio. The Gospel Torch, official organ of the League, has served to provide a bond of unity, and to inform the members of general activities, as well as to present helpful articles by its contributions. May enthusiasm be redoubled, the standards advanced, God's blessing be given, and Christ be glorified as the work of the Y. P. G. L. continues.

As the key is to the book, so is the Holiness League to the spiritual life of the students of Taylor. By means of the regular Friday evening services countless young people have come into a richer fellowship with God through prayer and testimony, for when one shares his blessings, he thereby gains greater blessings. A lock may be a good lock and very capable of performing its function, but it is of little or no use unless there is a key to it. Likewise, one may have a true Christian experience and yet be unable to help those about him to Christ. The Holiness League provides the opportunity for one to show by his presence that he is interested in the things of the Kingdom, by his testimony that he knows the Lord, by his prayers that he is anxious to win souls for the Lord. The Master has told us, "Ye are the salt of the earth." He wants us to make those about us thirst after the Kingdom.

Many are those who can point to the Holiness League as being the place where they first came to know the Lord. May the League ever remain thus an instrument in the hands of God proclaiming, "Holiness unto the Lord."

"Prayer is that act by which man, detaching himself from the embarrassments of sense and nature ascends to the true level of his destiny."
—H. P. LIDDON.

For thirty-two years, Prayer Band has silently and unpretentiously radiated Divine light and energy, creating and stabilizing the spiritual life in Taylor University. Students and faculty members have found rest and inspiration in its quiet hour of communion and devotion each Tuesday evening. They have gone forth to face the hard, bitter realities of life feeling that "Heaven was nearer and Christ was dearer than yesterday to me." But the ministry of the Prayer Band has not ended with the mere blessing of its faithful members but is extended through them in maintaining spiritual depth in the school.

Ambassadors of Christ from all countries, strong in the faith of the united prayers of believers, have sent in requests to Prayer Band. Souls in the darkness of Africa have seen a Great Light, men bound by the heathen superstition of India and China have become free in Christ Jesus, sick bodies have been healed and lives spared from the "fiery darts of the wicked one" because men and women in Prayer Band have met the enemy on their knees and claimed the victory through the Name of Jesus.

"Prayer Changes Things" is more than the motto of this organization—it is the thrilling testimony of its members.

There is something fascinating about the word "Volunteer." It suggests initiative, purpose, and heroic action.

Ever since the last days of His personal ministry, the words of the Master, "Go ye therefore and teach all nations," have been directed to the hearts of all who have accepted the universal invitation to receive pardon and cleansing from sin.

Taylor University has heeded the Great Commission. From the beginning, Taylor has been characterized by the missionary spirit. Bishop William Taylor, the man whose name she bears, was one of the greatest missionaries the world has known since the time of the Apostle Paul.

The Student Volunteers have sought to give a practical outlet to her ideals and passions by supporting a native African worker who is under the supervision of Reverend Wengatz, an alumnus of Taylor. A hundred dollars is given yearly for this purpose.

Missionaries who are home on furlough, professors, and others bring the missionary cause and its needs before the Volunteers in the weekly meetings of the group.

The purpose of the Volunteer Movement is not only to train missionaries but also to mold the ideals and aspirations of every student in order that whatever his position in life may be, he will have chosen his vocation in the light of Christian missions.

The Men's Ministerial Association is another one of Taylor's religious organizations. It is not, however, "just another one." Any male student of Taylor University who is looking forward to the ministry as a life work or is vitally interested therein is eligible for membership. This year there were about thirty men in the organization.

Each meeting of the group is planned to give each member the most practical experience possible. Several meetings each term are devoted to practice preaching which shows every member his weak spots. Several revival campaigns were conducted during the winter by the organization. Those meetings gave members the taste of actual service in the field.

Various members of the faculty lecture to the group on preachers' problems and helps. The organization tries to secure one nationally famous lecturer to come to the Taylor platform each year in its interest. This year Mr. Merton S. Rice was secured.

The association conducts three communion services annually in the College Chapel. The organization is glad and proud to have for its faculty sponsor Dr. A. Lincoln Shute.

The Womens' Evangel Organization has as its supreme purpose the ideal of bearing good news and glad tidings to those laden with sins and discouragement. Some of the members of the group have been definitely called and are preparing to preach, others are anticipating Christian work in whatever field and whenever God opens the way. Withal, we love Him, His words and His service. Here we are preparing. Perchance He will call us into His vineyard and we shall be ready to work and to give our best to the Master.

We meet every Wednesday after dinner from 6:45 to 7:45 o'clock in the Tower Room, a precious little room set apart in the top of the Administration Building. Its walls have witnessed many consecrations and many outpourings of the Holy Spirit. Sometimes we have speakers come in from outside the organization for our edification. Otherwise the girls "comfort one another with these words." We have practical and personal experience in speaking and addressing a group on religious topics. Also, we have informal discussions on topics interesting to each one. At each meeting someone presents the ministry in special song.

Preachers Kids, as individuals, are quite evident in the masses at Taylor, but as an organization, they are properly defunct. There may be several reasons why we have not accomplished things in an official capacity this year. Perhaps it is because no one was interested in donating a chicken dinner to the well-fed children; perhaps we have been busy chiseling intensively on our niche in the local hall of fame; perhaps, due to our traditional reputation as bad actors, we have been legislated against; perhaps we have no S. P.'s who would benefit thereby, to furnish the motivating force; or, still another possibility, we may be saving our energies for a grand and glorious climax.

Anyway, in spite of our disorganization, we realize what an asset our pictures would be to any book. Therefore, having a soft spot in our hearts for the Gem, we have decided to do a favor for it and the world in general. We truly doubt if anyone could assemble so distinctive a group anywhere whose members have become so without their own consent, and yet are unusually proud of their distinction, proud to be, "Preachers' Kids."

Taylor's Missionaries

Taylor University has sent nearly 100 representatives into foreign missionary service and many others into home missionary work. The foreign field is represented now on the Taylor Campus by the Professor of Missions, James W. Elliott, and Mrs. Elliott of South America, the Rev. George W. Breaden, of the Senior Class, and Mrs. Breaden from Palestine, Transjordan and Arabia, now under orders to sail for Jerusalem, and the head of the Department of Bible and Theology and his wife who have served in India.

The above pictures represent scenes in the experiences of Dr. and Mrs. A. Lincoln Shute of Taylor's Bible Department. The first shows the oldest true arch above ground at Ur, Abraham's home town, 1400 B. C. The second represents a garden party at the India Methodist Theological College, Jabalpur, India, with the main building of the College just below. The third shows the Indian custom of greeting and farewell, with flower garlands, testimonial and gifts. Below, the founder and President is enjoying choti hazari (little breakfast) at six A. M. on the open chabutra above the front driveway. The center is a common street scene, and the left a Culcutta yoke of bail and their load.

The editor regrets that there is not more space for pictures and credit for all of Taylor's Missionaries. What we have here will give a mere glimpse of the universality of our missionary activities.

We see here a shepherd waterhole in Palestine; a resting caravan in the mountains of Arabia; a public building, milk pedler, ox cart, and street scene from South America; two views of the pyramids of Egypt; and some of the old ruins at Babylonia. Truly a world-wide field!

OUR STATE GROUPS

From the north and south, her students,
East and west are there,
All the nations ope' her portals,
And her blessings share.

Far and wide her fame is spreading,
'Till in every land,
Men shall hear the name of Taylor,
And her purpose grand.

The student body of Taylor comes from at least 30 states and three foreign countries. They come to Taylor by train, auto, and "pavement pounding." In these pictures we have represented the states with the greatest number of students in school here. Three of these states have definite organization, holding various picnics, outings, and prayer meetings during the school year. These organized states are Michigan, Pennsylvania, and New York. As mentioned below, Ohio has a Club for former students as well as those now attending Taylor. We consider it quite a compliment that some of our number will sever connections with "home" for years at a time to come two or three thousand miles to get what Taylor has to "Care for the Soul."

Getting together in Indiana from Washington and Maine naturally tends toward creating a spirit of brotherhood. It may be that this cosmopolitan nature of our student body is the thing that makes Taylor noted as a "big family." At any rate, it is a noticeable feature that there is no attitude of upper class supremacy or lower class timidity. "United we stand, for world brotherhood."

In addition to the more or less organized state groups of students on the campus, there is now organized a group known as the Northern Ohio Taylor Club. This group first met during the Christmas vacation of 1930-31 as a body of all Taylor students and alumni living in the northern part of Ohio. The purpose of the organization is to have get-togethers of Taylorites to talk over times gone by and discuss new developments of the school, such as what Professors are new and what buildings have additions. It is hoped that the NOT Club will continue its parties and meetings. It should develop into a capable unit, influential in advertising Taylor in the territory around Cleveland as a center. All Ohio Taylor students are invited to get in touch with Miss Grace Olson, 8105 Whitethorn Ave., Cleveland, Ohio.

Athletic Association

The T. U. Athletic Association entered upon this year's extensive athletic program with a spirit of fellowship, co-operation, and good will toward all branches of athletic competition to make Taylor's slogan, "Everybody plays," come true. Most of the plans of last year's Association were continued, but there have been a few changes and additions for more and better-spirited competition.

The best year of indoor sports that Taylor has had was made possible by the new Gym, which was put into useable condition by the bankboards installed by the Association, and the floor installed as the Senior class gift. Our court is now one of the best in this section of the state.

The A. A. planned as a new attraction for this year the presentation of letters to the school's outstanding athletes. Players are judged by a faculty committee on ability, sportsmanship, teamwork, and scoring in each sport. The best players from both teams are chosen to make one all-star team.

The Association feels that it has accomplished all that it started out to do, and hopes that next year's association will "carry on" with the procuring of better supplies and facilities as T. U. grows.

THE NEW FLOOR IN USE

The Maytag Gymnasium

The new Maytag Gymnasium is one of the buildings which has been looked forward to for many years on Taylor's campus. Since the gym has been finished for use, and the students have been taking advantage of it, there is no wonder that we are proud of it. It was put here for the purpose of improving our physical development and training, and now it is left up to the students of Taylor to make and build up athletics to such an extent that everyone takes part in sports. Our motto—"Everyone Plays."

A few years ago plans were made to build a gym here, but it was not until last year that much progress could be seen. The foundation had been built for some time, but going from the ground up did not start until Mr. Maytag gave us his large gift to make the building what it is today.

By a generous gift of the Capehart Corporation, the new gym is modern in every respect. They installed one of their modern Public-Address systems with an elaborate automatic phonograph attachment in connection with it. It is also possible to have organ music from the chapel amplified in the auditorium.

In the front of the building, just as you enter the front door, you can see the trophy case given by the Athletic Association of last year.

After the building itself was constructed, there was a need for a basketball floor in the gym. The Senior class of '31 saw the need, and as their class gift installed the wonderful maple floor so greatly appreciated and used this year. Not only can the floor be used for basketball, but also for volleyball and indoor baseball. Since such equipment has been furnished, there are high hopes for a stronger athletic activity here at Taylor.

This building is not to be used for athletics alone, but also for a place to hold meetings and social gatherings. The first big meeting to be held in the new auditorium was when "Billy" Sunday spoke last spring. Then the Commencement Exercises of the class of 1930 were held in the same building.

The students this year have enjoyed the use of such a large and beautiful gymnasium, but there are greater hopes for the future. In the basement there is going to be an outstanding feature, and that will be a swimming pool. There is also space in the basement for handball courts, and auxiliary basketball and tennis courts, besides the usual accommodations for showers and dressing rooms. Things point to a completely equipped and furnished modern gymnasium in the near future.

THE CODE OF A GOOD SPORT

Thou shalt not quit.
Thou shalt not alibi nor make excuse.
Thou shalt not gloat over winning.
Thou shalt not be a poor loser.
Thou shalt not take an unfair advantage.
Thou shalt always be ready to give thine opponent the benefit of the doubt.
Thou shalt not underestimate thine opponent nor overestimate thyself.
Play the game for the game's sake.
Honor the game thou playest, for he who playeth the game straight wins
even when he loses.
A winner never quits—a quitter never wins.

SPORTSMANSHIP

Play the game,
But play it fairly;
Fight to win,
But meet men squarely;
Tackle hard,
And hit the line;
Do your best,
But don't you whine.

IN THE PROCESSION

Spring comes: and baseball, robust flower, in every meadow's seen;
Summer: and tennis bourgeons white upon the shining green;
Autumn: and football shakes at us chrysanthemum-like hair;
Winter: and even ice is left a-bloom with skaters fair;
Four times a year the earth is glad with miscellaneous joy;
As often sighs the man who was—and now is not—a boy.

Intersociety

Whether as Philos or as Thalos, we
Can play the game because the game is good,
Because a fair-fought game is good to see
And good to play in, sweet to flesh and blood.

Thalo Men's Basketball

The Thalo men put out a good team this year but for some reason or other they were not able to surpass the Philos. Even if they did lose, they showed that there was that real society spirit among them. During the three games of the series the Thalomen played with great intentions of winning but something seemed to slip, and they lost every game.

"Bud" Coldiron and Marvin Stuart deserve a great deal of credit for the playing they did as forwards. Many times when the Thalomen were in for more points they depended on Marvin to make his long shots from the middle of the floor. "Bud" did some great offensive work for his team, even though it was his first year on the squad. Gilbert Spaude was at center, jumping for the Thalomen this year. He could not score very many times as the Philo center guarded him very closely.

"Art" Howard and Raymond Norton were the outstanding guards for the Thalomen. Not only did "Art" play, but he also managed the team and gave them some very good plays. He was the high point man on the team, making most of his shots from the middle of the floor. In the last game there was a bad streak somewhere as "Art" could not make the field goals as he did in the other games. Sparky and Hammer were able to help the Thalomen during the series also.

What the score book shows:
3rd game—Philos 36; Thalomen 10

Due to an unexpected accident it was impossible to obtain a picture of this year's Thalo team and the above is the cut from last year. The Messrs. Persons, Gorrell and Finch were last year's men and were replaced this year by Howard, Coldiron and Douglas.

Philo Men's Basketball

This year brought more success to the Philos, for the quintet retained the championship cup. This is the third consecutive year in which they have won the series "three straight." They had team work and fight which could not be beat.

Cap Musselman and Alex Bourquard started the season as forwards, but Musselman was unable to play in the last of the series because of sickness. Cleo Skelton took his place, coming through the season as high-point man with thirty-seven points to his credit. Alex is a three-year man of the squad with a very high record—he never played on a losing Philo team.

Ralph Dodge and Bush could not have been faster and cleaner than they were this year. Their guarding was one of the outstanding features of the season. This is the third and last year for Dodge to be on the Philo squad. Bill Breen could not be surpassed when it came to jumping at center. His lanky form made it easy for him to get the tip-off every time.

Fritts and Moorhouse showed commendable action when they were called onto the floor. The whole team was under the leadership of Manager Griswold.

First game—Philos 20, Thalos 12; Second game—Philos 21, Thalos 17;

PHILO

Upper row: left to right

DAYTON MUSSELMAN—"Cap" was one of the best players on the team. He was a fast, clever, and shifty player. His specialty was long shots as well as guarding.

CLEO SKELTON—Spending all the year as forward, Cleo was one of the steady, capable players of the quintet.

WILLIAM BREEN—Jumping as center all year, Bill played his best. He was quick and smooth.

RALPH DODGE—Ralph played as guard, making it hard for the opposition to get near enough to the basket to score.

ALEX BOURQUARD—Alex always worked hard and fast on the floor. When points were needed, he had the knack of dropping the ball into the net.

WESLEY BUSH—Even though he played a guard position, he was a scoring man for the Phils.

LEWELLYN GRIFFITH—Although he did not get to play in all the games, he was a clean, fast player.

WALLACE FRITTS—Even though he could not play in every game, he gave his support whenever it was needed.

ARTHUR HOWARD—"Art" was an enthusiastic member of the Thalo Team. He was a clean player and the skillful manager of the squad.

MARVIN STUART—Marvin is a very effective dribbler and clean passer. This is his last year on the team.

RAYMOND NORTON—He was a very dependable player and guarded very closely while in the game.

GILBERT SPAUDE—Spaude is an enthusiastic member of the Thalo quintet. He knew how to go up for the ball at center for the tip.

SEIBERT HAMMER—"Si" did not get to play much through the season, but he surely showed his playing spirit when needed. He played forward on the team.

HAZEN SPARKS—Sparky is one of those "minute men" who is always on the go at the spur of the moment.

LUMAN DOUGLAS—"Doug" was the real "pep" of the team, both on the floor and along the side lines.

BERNARD COLDIRON—When it came to clean, fast playing, Bud showed that on the floor. His skill at slipping the ball into the basket was a great help.

Philo Women's Basketball

The Philo girls came out this season with a little stronger team than the year before, but then they could not surpass the Thalo girls. When the first game of the season was played and the Philos took the victory with a score of 15-8, every one thought that the season was going to be a much better success than before. The girls played for all they were worth and the team showed good organization, making the Thalos work hard to overtake them. Next year the team is going to feel a great loss, for they are losing six of their best players, who are Seniors this year.

"Bernie" Kendall and Elizabeth Waite, playing as forwards, showed excellent co-operation. They faked and dribbled in spite of being closely guarded. "Bernie" scored twenty-four points this season.

Margaret Wolf and Mary Poling played a most successful season as guards. They were kept on the go from the time the game started until it finished, but were never taken out because of fouls.

Florence Hazelton and Sadie Lucas deserve much credit for their team work and fast playing as centers. Every time Sadie had the ball she was sure to get it over to "Bernie" to score a basket for the Philos. The team played their best and gave their full heart and soul in the games.

Results of the games:

1st game—Philos, 15; Thalos, 8.

2nd game—Philos, 5; Thalos, 24.

Thalo Women's Basketball

The Thalo women again came through the season with victory on their shoulders. In spite of the fact that they lost the first game, they were not alarmed, and took the next three. The team fought hard to retain the trophy. They are going to feel the loss next year when three of their best players leave in the graduating class.

Marian Derby and Helen Gilmore were the outstanding forwards this year. Their passing and dribbling was fast and clean, and when they shot at the basket the ball generally went through the meshes.

Angie Ockenga and Hazel Simons had about the best system in passing and tipping the ball at center. They stopped the ball many times from getting into Philo territory, and consistently made it easy for the Thaloses to score. Angie very seldom lost the tip at center.

The team could not have had better guards than Irene Witner and Florence Drake. They had what is needed on any team, and that is speed and clean playing. When the ball was tossed over to the Philo girls, the Thalo guards kept them from making a good shot at the basket.

Eunice Davis and Helen Ehrich also helped to bring Thalo victory when they were called onto the floor.

What the score book shows:

3rd game—Thalos 10; Philos 7

4th game—Thalos 16; Philos 9

MARIAN DERBY—Although not able to play the first game, she came out to be a main cog in the wheel. It was through her efforts that many points were won.

HAZEL SIMONS—This was her first year, but she proved to be a quick and reliable player at center.

ROBERTA BENNETT—"Boots" was not a regular player, but she helped to support her team in all games.

HELEN GILMORE—She was one of the steadiest players on the team, and was also a high scorer.

ANGIE OCKENGA—As the tallest player on the team, she gave the ball many a tip at center. Her work on defense and ability to get the jump made her valuable.

IRENE WITNER—This was another year of service for "Renie," working at the guard position.

EUNICE DAVIS—"Yooney" was a loyal "sub." The team will miss her enthusiastic support next year.

FLORENCE DRAKE—Her work on the defensive side of the game was quite outstanding.

HELEN EHRLICH—Helen was a regular whose picture was omitted.

SADIE LUCAS—"Lukie" was one of the mainstays of the team, and her loss will be felt next year. She never lost her pep, and could always be counted on to put up a good fight.

VERENA JOHNSON—With her range, and accuracy in shooting, Verena was an asset to the team.

MARY POLING—Mary was a dependable, formidable, outstanding guard. This is her last year for Philo basketball.

BERNICE KENDALL—Spending all of the year at forward, "Bernie" was one of the consistently capable players. She was the high scorer of the Philo team.

MARGARET WOLF—This was "Marg's" first year as regular member of the team, but she put up a real battle as guard. She received favorable comment for her steady playing.

LUCILLE JONES—Lucille was an excellent substitute guard, and helped the team immensely.

FLORENCE HAZELTON—Her worth to the team was shown by her ability to hold down the center position, and to get the tip-offs.

ELIZABETH WAITE—"Lizzie" was rather short, but that did not keep her from being a splendid forward and caging many points for her team. Her specialty was foul shots.

THALO

Turner did good work in helping to place the Thalos on top. He showed his real ability in the standing jumps, javelin and discus throws. Red hair helps a lot sometimes.

Now we know why some people can get away before getting caught. Stuart was the best hurdler of the track season. He got off with a slow start but finished with a good score.

Sparks and a flash make all things rise. He had a slow start but came over the top with a victory. In the dashes, Sparkie was high point man.

Another one of the great tossers was Norton. He showed most of his ability in using the strength of his arms. With the discus, he was high point man.

PHILO

Up and over was Harrison's aim. If it was not for this high jumping man, the Philos would have lost many points. He came out first in many events.

Griswold came on the track with a great surprise this season. He broke the tape by running the 100-yard dash in 10.1 seconds. It pays many times to have short legs.

Skelton did good work in the mile run last season. He was not a star, but worked hard and gave all he had. He scored many points for the Philos.

Kenyon could go high on his sax, but in pole vaulting he could go higher. Although he was not able to make points in many events, he did his best and came over the top.

INTERSOCIETY BASEBALL

Intersociety baseball is one of the outstanding sports brought about on Taylor's campus. This sport has so steadily increased in popularity that it is a success not only from the standpoint of games won, but also from the keen interest and enthusiasm as shown by the student body. When the season opened everyone was out cheering for his side.

In the opening game of the season the Philos brought the Thalos down in a hard fought game. The next two games, however, were satisfying wins for the Thalos—especially satisfying after their first loss. "Mike" Palacio pitched for the Philos, and "Bob" Gorrell for the Thalos. They both pitched wonderful games during the season. Skelton very ably assisted Mike many times, since Mike was a little hindered with a sore arm.

The last two games were as close as any played during the series. These games, hard fought tilts, were Philo victories, winning for them the Greer trophy. The final game was made very exciting by several unusual plays such as double-plays and home runs. The game ran into the tenth inning.

The teams this year were both well trained before going onto the diamond to play. They had been groomed and coached for some time in practice work-outs. Both the outfields and infields of the two teams were of equal rank. The Philos had the advantage of the higher batting average.

With a wealth of material back this year, both teams expect another successful season. And we?—Well, we're expecting the best yet.

What the score book shows:

| 5th game | Philos 8; Thalos 7 |

Total—Thalos 41; Philos 40

THALO

Standing: Tyler, Spaude, Bick-sler, Stuart, Hammer, Turner,
Annand, Persons.

Sitting: Finch, Gorrell.

Gorrell started the season by filling the pitcher's box. Although he filled this place he also was one of the most dependable hitters on the team. His best work occurred while pitching.

The third baseman, who went by the name of Norton, played a remarkable game. Why take short swings when long are just as good? His batting average was among the highest.

Spaude won a place at second base. At times there is a great advantage in being tall and having a long reach. His coaching and ball-field humor helped the team and spectators.

PHILO

Standing: Palacio, Skelton, Bush, C. Long, Hatfield.

Kneeling: A. Long, Griswold, Bauer, Griffiths.

Mike played his usual steady game in the pitcher's box. His batting average was among the highest. He made the others keep a close watch on the ball.

Andy seemed to be a little slow in some things, but when playing at third he showed his swiftness. He was one of the fastest runners on the team.

Skelton played a sterling game behind the plate. His batting power was a great help to the Philos. As pitcher, he played a "striking" game of baseball.

THALO PLAYERS

Standing: Schlafman, Kerstetter, Spaude,
Wildermuth, McCreery.
Kneeling: Bicksler, Clymer.

Kenneth Griswold—"Ken" is an outstanding player on the Philo team, and he is expected to show his skill again this year.

PHILO PLAYERS

Standing: Jobe, C. Long, Scharer, Lewis,
Moorehouse, Winters.

Kneeling: Drake, Webster, Griffiths,
Musselman.

TROPHIES WON THIS YEAR

Men's Basketball—Thalo-Philo. A huge silver loving cup. Won by the Philos this year.

Women's Basketball—Thalo-Philo. A classy figure trophy. Won by the Thalos this year.

Men's Basketball—Interclass. A figure trophy. Won by the Freshmen this year.

Women's Basketball—Interclass. A figure trophy. Won by the Seniors this year.

Baseball—Philo-Thalo. A figure trophy. Won by the Philos last spring.

Track—Philo-Thalo. A figure trophy. Won by the Thalos last spring.

Tennis—Philo-Thalo. Silver loving cup. Won by the Thalos last spring.

Standing: McDonald, Patrick, Pugh,
Derby, Fox, Birdsall.

Sitting: Nutting, Hill, Hawkins.

Carol Vandersall stepping up a little to give the ball a hard smack for a run.

Standing: Yingling, Miller, Scott, Annand, Morgan, Waite, Vandersall, Smith.

Sitting: Clark, Reedy, Tatem.

GIRLS INTERSOCIETY BASEBALL

This is another form of contest on neutral ground where-on the societies may bruise each other's ribs without fear of trouble.

With Willma Annand as captain of the Philos and Ruby Nutting of the Thalos, and a field of more or less experienced players, the students saw two interesting games on the diamond. The Philos took over the Thalos in the first game of the season. Following a few days' intermission the Philos took punishment at the hands of the Thalos.

It is an interesting fact that the heavy hitters were evenly divided among these two society teams. This being the first year of such an unusual occasion at Taylor, everyone took part and came out to boost his team. Looking forward, we appreciate what the future holds for us in the same line.

What the score book shows:

1st game: Philos 13; Thalos 5

2nd game: Philos 7; Thalos 10

THALO TENNIS

Marian Derby—Here is Derby all ready to return a low one.

Helen Ehrich—Behind a smile lies a real tennis player.

Marvin Stuart—Marvin played in the men's doubles with Spaude for the Thalos.

Gilbert Spaude—Spaude won the men's singles for the Thalos last spring.

Below is a picture of one of the tennis courts on which the series was played. The series was won by the Thalos.

PHILO TENNIS

Charles Simpson—"Chuck" was one of the outstanding tennis players of the Philos.

Cleo Skelton, Kenneth Griswold—"Cleo" and "Ken" played in the men's doubles for the Philos.

Margaret Wolf—"Marg" played some wonderful tennis, this being her first year.

Marguerite Friel, Margaret Wolf—Here are the winners of the women's doubles.

Kenneth Griswold—Although he lost the men's singles, he is an enthusiastic player.

Interclass

The seniors lay their dignity aside,
And every class forgets a little while
All other things, and sport is glorified,
And good to play in, sweet to flesh and blood.

Standing, left to right: Coldiron, Henderson, Breen, Howard, Salisbury.
Kneeling: Bade, Moorhouse, Mumma, Drake, Shields, Illk.

Freshman Boys' Basketball

For three years inter-class basketball has been one of the outstanding sports. When it was introduced the Freshmen took the class series. Last year the Juniors showed their ability by taking the series. This year the Freshmen showed that they were winners by taking the honor of being champions. Every man on the team had speed and real team work.

"Bud" Coldiron was captain of the team. After starting in a little wild, he calmed, and began to make his playing count. Salisbury and Henderson played guard, making it hard for the other teams to get an easy play. Breen was a great center. When that six foot, slender form of his went into the air, all hope was given up. His playing lived up to all expectations, since he made points in all the games. Art Howard played forward. His long shots are what put the Freshmen on the upward way.

The easiest game they had was with the Seniors, although the Juniors were also easily defeated. But with the Sophomores they had to play to get the game, and the Freshmen showed that they could do it.

What the score book shows:

1st game—Freshmen 20; Seniors 12

2nd game—Freshmen 25; Sophomores 21

3rd game—Freshmen 22; Seniors 10

Standing, left to right: Ehrich, Johnson, Derby, Hazelton, Poling, Kendall.

Senior Girls' Basketball Team

What a jolly crowd it was when the Senior girls played their last game and came out as champions. The other teams were not quite good enough to overwhelm the impetuous team put out by the Senior Class. The Senior did not have to use their strongest playing ability while "battling" with the Freshmen and Sophomores as they did with the Juniors. This being the second year for the Seniors to take the trophy they ought to be proud of themselves. After the first quarter in the Junior game, the opponents began to sleep on the floor.

"Bernie" Kendall scored the greatest number of points for the Seniors. In spite of the close guarding, she came through scoring more points than ever.

Marian Derby and Eunice Davis had the best organization when playing center. As soon as the ball went into the air, "Derb" was always on the jump in order to get the tip. They were both fast and clean players.

The hardest positions to play on the team were very successfully done by Mary Poling and Verena Johnson playing as guards. They went through the season with only a couple of fouls called upon them.

What the score book shows:

1st game—Seniors 34; Freshmen 12

2nd game—Seniors 32; Juniors 6

Interclass Baseball

Baseball, though not of such long standing in the light of popularity as basketball and tennis, still is increasing its grip on the enthusiasm of the students each year.

The outcome of the inter-class games last spring was a source of much speculation. The four teams seemed to be comparatively well balanced and because of this the scores were close.

The freshmen, always a dark horse in all sports, turned out a smooth working team, but lost first place to the hard-hitting seniors. The juniors seemed to be a little weak in hitting last year. At the beginning of the season the seniors put the sophs down before they had time to show what they could do.

We are not only looking forward to see the team with the victory, but to see athletics come to the place where everyone will take an interest in them. The teams did not have a regular coach last year, but there are great hopes for a person to help a great deal in athletics next year.

What the score book shows:

Interclass Tennis

The Sophomores brought upon the tennis courts some of the best players last spring. They went through the season by losing only one set, this was lost to the Freshman men's doubles. Every day and evening the courts were filled with players from all classes, some in practice for the tournament and others for the joy of playing tennis.

Marg Wolf gave all of her ability and energy to the Sophomores and defeated Hedley 6-3, 6-3 for a second victory. Gil Spaude played a good, steady and easy game when taking Ken Griswold over and bringing another victory to the Sophomores.

The mixed doubles were won by Spaude and Red Friel against Simpson and Kletzing. This went by 6-4 and 6-1 sets.

Jerry Nicholson was handicapped by a sprained ankle. In spite of that drawback, however, many times she helped her team by coming out and giving them her best support.

Although the Sophomores took the tournament all of the other classes showed them that they had to play to receive that honor.

The tournament went to the Sophomores by 4 to 1.

INTERCLASS TRACK

RUY SUMMERS—Ruy was an outstanding man on the Junior track team because of his ability in high and broad jumping. He was high-point man of the meet with 18 points.

MARVIN STUART—Marvin had a successful season on the track last spring. He entered as many events as possible and made a total of 15 points for the Juniors.

GOMER FINCH—Here we have one of the loyal Seniors doing his best during the track season. Gomer was unable to make many points, but he deserves a lot of credit.

DON HATFIELD—Don won the pole vault for the Freshmen last spring. His points helped to put his class in second place in the meet. It pays to go high in the world.

INTERCLASS TRACK

ALVAH HARRISON—Only a Freshman—but what a Freshman! Harrison is one of the best standing high jumpers. One of these high-steppers you hear about.

"KENNY" HOOVER—He might look a little too large for track, but here you see "Kenny" on the last lap of the two mile run. It takes a lot to "stick it out" on a grind like that.

RAY TURNER—Ray entered many of the events during the track season, coming through with many points to his credit. Most of his ability was given to high jumping.

WESLEY BUSH—Bush worked very hard on the track team last spring. Here he is approaching with a "Hop-Step-and-a-Jump." "Happy jumpings, Wes!"

OUR MAJOR DIVISION PAGES

Miss Doolittle, creator of the wood cuts for the five major division pages, here expresses the thoughts leading to the development of these particular scenes. We hope you agree that she has done a great piece of work in illustrating the theme of the book through these five pages.—Editor.

As Bishop William Taylor sought to bring the light of wisdom and understanding into the African jungle city, so the Administrators at Taylor University, in memory of him, seek to bring the light of reason and understanding into the jungle which we call state of mind. With each succeeding year light penetrates deeper into this jungle until, at last, bathed in rays of light, it can no longer be dark. (See page 17 and 29.)

Bishop Taylor taught his people the great value of co-operation, saying, "As the strength of the ox and the endurance of the camel are yoked together to bring about good, so yoke your strength with your brother's endurance." (See page 65.)

With the value of organization, Bishop Taylor taught the value of sportsmanship, the value to be derived for both body and mind in competitive sports. So, the bullock race of South Africa differs very little from our own track events in purpose. (See page 111.)

In the Hindoo market places where Bishop Taylor often went to preach, he saw snake charmers entertaining the people. If the purpose of the snake charmer is to entertain and divert, then we hope this last section of our book will do the same for you. (See page 147.)

Gem Signature Plan

Nothing is impossible. The Business Staff began to doubt that, however, when it became apparent that the business depression was going to cut a big hole in the expected income from advertising. A few hints were passed to the Editorial Staff that it had better start planning on considerable reduction of the quality and quantity of its work. But that wouldn't do, for The Gem is one of Taylor's best assets.

Then the Business Manager sent out an appeal to all the friends of the school. To his amazement and delight, letters began to come in to him by the score. He was so pleased that he decided to publish the signatures of each so that all might see whom to thank for being able to publish an annual of which any one might be proud. Because of these folk, neither quality nor quantity has been impaired.

Once more the Business Staff can believe that nothing is impossible. With such a multitude of friends how can it be? To each of you Taylor University and The Gem Staff in particular expresses its thanks.

The Gem Blotter

Local merchants have complained that advertising in the Gem brings them little return, for it is not read till after the school year is over. In order to overcome this objection, the "Blotter" was introduced by the Gem Staff of 1929. Since then it has proved a more successful medium of advertising than the book itself. Many consider it better than the weekly paper "The Echo."

A facsimile of that published by the 1931 Staff appears above. It was made in three colors: green, blue, and yellow. Three times during the year this desk blotter was distributed to each student. Since he spends a part of every day at his desk, the advertising in front of him is bound to make an impression. The Business Staff feels that if any form of written advertising is successful, this should be.

The students appreciate this service, for not only do they have a fresh blotter the year around, but they have a directory of Upland business men and the business friends of Hartford City and Marion. As long as the advertisers are supported "The Gem Blotter" will be a success.

FATHER LOVE

We hear about a mother's love
In story and in song,
How staunch it is through thick and thin,
How tender and how strong,
How sweet and pure and beautiful,
And every word is true,
But what about a father's love
That claims some credit, too.

It's father delves the darksome mine,
And climbs the girders high,
And swings upon the scaffolding
Between the earth and sky.
It's father bends his aching back,
And bows his graying head,
To bear the burdens of the day,
And earn the children's bread.

For both must work and both must plan,
And do an equal share
To rear the little ones the Lord
Has trusted to their care,
All honor to the mother love,
The universe it fills,
But when you praise it don't forget
That father pays the bills.

—From the "Michigan Tradesman."

A PRAYER

To grow a little wiser day by day,
To school my mind and body to obey,
To keep my inner life both clean and strong,
To free my lips from guile, my hands
from wrong,
To shut the door on hate, and scorn, and pride,
To open, then, to love the windows
wide,
To meet with cheerful heart what comes
to me,
To turn life's discords into harmony,
To share some weary worker's heavy load,
To point some straying comrade to the road,
To know that what I have is not my own,
To feel that I am never quite alone—
This would I pray from day to day.
For then I know
My life will flow
In peace, until it be
God's will I go.

—Arthur Detmers.

THE FUNCTION OF WORRY

Somebody has said that the things we worry most about never happen.

Do you know why? There's a reason! The fact that we anticipate trouble implies that we have taken measures to lighten the blow when it strikes.

I don't believe in worry, but I do believe in looking ahead, and thinking about the solution of problems before they are upon us.

Anyone who does this usually finds that most of his troubles never happen. The man who worries about how he will be taken care of in his old age usually finds when old age comes that he has a savings account which carries him through that period comfortably.

UNEMPLOYMENT

After the 48 governors of our states solve the unemployment problem lets find something for the governors to do.

Who wants to work during July and August? When the dog days are here let's follow the hounds.

Ambition is about a nickel a bushel when the thermometer is buzzing like a hornet that's all stinger.

The finest kind of rest is touring in a rumble seat and getting a beautiful view of the back of the driver's neck.

FACTS & STATISTICS

According to statistics, the city of Reno is the dividing line of the United States.

"The pleasure of crossing the ocean," sez a recently returned traveler, "is mostly all bunk."

A tree surgeon states that the family tree is of a unique variety, as other trees shed their rotten branches.

A noted physician says that you should do as much walking as possible if you want to live long, but don't cross too many streets.

The early twitter of a robin in the tree tops does not mean an early spring; it denotes a fool robin that is not up on his weather prophecy.

MARRIAGE

Some years ago a minister could tie a knot that few people could untie, but the later day married couples are regular Houdinis.

Lots of people predict the doom of marriage, but we notice that the cabinet makers still keep on manufacturing hope chests, with no fear of bankruptcy.

This marriage game is 50-50, for when he discovers that she can't cook, she discovers that the ring and car are not paid for.

Speaking of marriage, it is easy to furnish the love nest now-a-days with a little down.

A friend of mine is surely going to marry a grass widow. He told me that it was all cut and dried.

Home is surely one thing: it is the place where you can trust the ingredients of the hash.

An elderly married lady told me that she hated to look at the ruins of Italy as it reminded her of her husband—he also had fallen arches.

The professor that sent his wife to the bank and kissed his money good-bye, wasn't so absentminded after all.

MONDAY A. M.

I think that I will never see
A clothes pin looking good to me;
A pin whose biting mouth is pressed
Upon the nightshirt's dripping breast;
A pin that holds up to the breeze
A billowing pair of B. V. D.'s;
A pin that must in these days snare
Such scanty bits of underwear;
That dries tea towels in endless flocks
And intimately lives with socks.

THE BUTCHER'S LOVE SONG

I never sausage eyes as thine,
And if you'll butcher hands in mine,
And liver 'round me every day,
We'll seek some hamlet far away.
We'll meet life's frown with love's caress
And cleaver way to happiness.

COMPENSATION

Here lies a man who saved his all
For days when rain and snow should fall,
He knew no pleasure, shared no game,
And died before the blizzard came.

I love my country's rocks and rills
And fain would move from off her hills,
Those billboard signs for liver pills.

Boys never have it.
Lucy had it once.
Babies never have it.
Paul had it behind.
Mrs. Gallagher had it twice in succession.
Dr. Lowell had it three times,
Twice as bad behind as before.

THREE LITTLE WORDS

There are three words—the sweetest words in all human speech,
More sweet than all the songs of birds, or poets preach.
This life may be a vale of tears, a sad and dreary thing—
Three words and trouble disappears and birds begin to sing.
Three words and all the roses bloom, the sun begins to shine.
Three words will dissipate the gloom and bring us bliss sublime.
“I love you”—wrong, by heck,
It is another, sweeter phrase—
“Enclosed Find Check.”

RIGHT, EH?

A poor man lives from hand to mouth,
He's never in the running,
But a baby lives from foot to mouth,
And people call it cunning.

Abbey

There are several men here at Taylor who are occupied with making us comfortable, and who supervise the more practical phases of our life here. Mr. Watkins, better known as "Daddy" Watkins, is in charge of the heating plant. When you look at him and his efficient helpers, in the lower right hand picture, do you wonder that our rooms are always so nice and warm? Mr. Fox is a familiar figure on our campus, as he hustles to and fro with his plumber's outfit. In the upper right hand picture, we see Mr. Abbey on the new gym floor. He played a great part in the laying of it, as he superintended its installation. When we get too rough and tear things up, he always comes to the rescue and mends it. Mr. Atkinson, familiarly called Bert, has leased our greenhouse for three years. He it is who pleases our aesthetic natures with beautiful corsages for the banquets, flowers for programs, and all special occasions. He also furnishes the dining hall with fresh vegetables.

"DO YOU REMEMBER?"

SEPTEMBER

16. Students begin to pour in. Happy reunion of S. P. couples, who come early in order to make a good start with no rules.
- 17-18 Registration days! Our beautiful campus once again resounds our senseless chatter. We're back for a bigger and better year.
19. The Philaethean and Thalonian Literary Societies present Professor John Harvey Furbay in a "talking picture" of his trip abroad this last summer.
20. Formal reception for the new students in the Maytag Gymnasium. Alex Bourquard and Marvin Stuart present their professional cards, showing that they are the new agents of the Modern Dry Cleaners.
24. Matriculation sermon by Dr. Paul.
25. Thalo day. Their airship circles over Taylor campus and then "The Good Ship Thalo" sails to Shreiner Auditorium in the initial program of the year, given for the new students.
26. Philo day. Banners fly high. Procession into chapel in the morning and then the Philo initial program has its setting in romantic Venice. What could be more beautiful than the haunting strains of the gondolier's violin and the answer of his lady love?
27. Beginning of the campus Tennis Tourney. Big Baseball game between new and old fellows. The old students showed their superiority. Jim Henderson and Fred MacKenzie furnished excellent entertainment between innings.
29. Opening of Ministerial Training School.
30. Seniors sneak! And were they clever about it? Ask the Sophomores!

OCTOBER

1. Suppose we continue about Senior Sneak. Six Sophomore fellows enjoyed their trip to Mammoth Cave, so their telegram said. By the way, the Juniors sneaked, too.
2. A near murder in the Dining Hall. Helen Ehrich chases Kenny Hoover with a butcher knife.
7. Junior Rules read in chapel.
10. New Thalos present the "Shreiner Booking Agency."
11. Soangetaha pow-wow at "Laughing Water Lodge." Eureka-Eulog jamboree.
14. Si and John give big watermellon feed. Where? When? Why? And How!!!
17. The New Philos take us to "G Clef Inn" in their debut.
19. Finish of the campus tennis tourney. A lot of talent discovered in the new students, but Marg and Spaude came out on top, anyhow.
20. Mnankas give tea for the new girls.
21. Revival begins with Dr. Paul and Prof. Greer in charge. Dr. Stuart is to come later.

25. Big football game in the Taylor University stadium. Unusual features—Biladeaux knocked out, John Llewellyn breaks his nose, first aid treatments by Mary Rice, and water given to the sick and suffering by Elizabeth Stuart.
29. Legal Hundred Day!
31. Revivals end with a feeling of spiritual uplift.

NOVEMBER

1. Taylor students "take the air." Stunts and what have you. Thalo masquerade and Philo hay-ride climax the eventful day.
8. Literary program. Thalos take us for a "Trip Around the World."
15. First presentation of "The Rock."
17. Mr. Breden gives the Arabian call to prayer from the tower of the Ad Building.
18. Second presentation of "The Rock."
19. Signs of second childhood. The Seniors have Kid Party. John Kjolseth gets a permanent for the occasion. But it doesn't last!
21. The Philos give us a glimpse of "The First Thanksgiving."
22. Lyceum committee presents "The Apollo Duo" entertainers.
26. The Weather Man thinks it is Christmas, but that does not take away the lure of vacation and home.

DECEMBER

1. Back to work. Bill Breen relieved of his duties as Orange Lantern Manager.
3. Jim Henderson breaks up housekeeping.
6. Dr. Leslie of Boston Theological Seminary gives an inspiring message in chapel.
9. The lecture by Dr. Merton S. Rice on "The Skylark of Methodism" will long be remembered.
10. Registration for the winter term.
11. Class week begins. The Sophomore class change their emblems to illustrate "The Wise Fool." We think it rather appropriate.
12. Debate with Miami University, the boys initiating the Oregon plan here.
13. The end of the Class Basketball series. Senior women and Freshman men win the trophies. The most outstanding literary program this year was the Christmas pageant, "The Holy Grail" given by the Thalonians.
19. Christmas vacation. The joy of it all.

JANUARY

1. Must we mention the Alabama-W. S. C. football game?
5. Back on the job. Grace Hedley hailed from Chicago.
8. Dale Russel waxes eloquent in chapel concerning the Campbell Parlors radio.
9. Sophomore Basket Social. An old Jew, we know not who, auctioned the baskets.
13. Engagement of Lew and Myrtle announced in Taylor University Echo.
14. "Bought and Paid For."

16. Grand initiation of the new gym floor, as Howard Mathews presents Senior class gift to Dr. Paul. First game of the evening: Melting-Pot vs. Senior girls. Big feature: Faculty men vs. Senior men. The faculty won, but injured most of their members in the seige.
18. Swineheart takes a ride.
21. Sophomore contest Echo appears.
28. Dr. Massey lectures in chapel. His subject, "Epitaphs."
31. Greatest musical event of the year: Fisk Jubilee Singers in concert.

FEBRUARY

2. A holiday declared—Kenny Hoover's birthday.
- 3-6. Dr. Owen's lectures.
7. Men's inter-club debate. The banner went to the Eulogs. Educational picture, "The Lost World."
10. Dr. Cottingham speaks in chapel.
13. Special Valentine dinner. "Blue Beard" given by Girls Glee Club. Troutie made an excellent little Blue Beard.
14. The first Inter-society basketball game. It was Philo Night.
18. Irene Reeder's Junior Piano Recital.
19. Speech students present "The Rock" at Fort Wayne.
20. Second basketball game of the series. To the Philo men and the Thalo girls go the spoils.
21. Women's Intercollegiate Debate. Fraternities in question.
24. Marguerite Friel captures cockroach.
27. Third game of the series, the last one for the men. Alex hurt but leads team to victory.
28. Prof. Pogue reads "The Fortune Hunter." Soangetahas win inter-club debate. Oh, for an extra day for just Spring Fever.

MARCH

2. Professor Furbay expounds on the evils of a house fly.
4. The "Flying Dutchman" speaks in chapel.
8. Winter again. To Miss Howard goes the medal for her artistic snow man. Muncie-Taylor day! We were quite proud to hear our Taylorites over the air.
13. Friday, the thirteenth, and a lucky one for the girls Intercollegiate debaters in their debate with Franklin.
14. Lost!!! One Frank Simons. Also Lost!! One Alice Bissell without him.
16. S. P. basketball game. Mary Poling and Lyle Thomas starred. Si Hammer had to go out on fouls.
18. Registration day for the Spring Term.
19. Beginning of regular Taylor broadcasts from WLBC in Muncie.
21. Juniors surprise Prof. Greer on his birthday.
25. Orchestra recital.
28. Girls in Campbell and Magee dorms have unique open house. Graduating recitals in Speech by Fox, Smith, and Bryan.
29. Palm Sunday. Memorial for Dr. Reade, first president of Taylor.

APRIL

1. Fire bell rings at 1:30. Dean Vandament still looking for the culprit. Prof. Pogue reads over WLW.
3. Good Friday. Choral Society gives "Olivet to Calvary."
5. Awakened by the Sophomore carolers to the beauty of the Easter morn. The breakfast and dining hall decorations were beautiful in their simplicity.
6. Rev. Joseph Smith begins the "School of the Prophets."
7. Legal Hundred meeting. Dr. Stuart elected president of Taylor.
8. Informal Reception for our new president in the Campbell parlors.
11. Men's open house. And even Swallow Robin condescended to open their doors.
13. Miss Cline decides to form a front row firing line in her English classes.
15. A new feature in Taylor's musical program—a two-piano recital.
16. Dr. W. P. Dearing, President of Oakland City College, speaks in chapel on "The Hoosier Hills."
17. The Celiste and the Excelsior quartets win the quartet contest. The judge, Miss Montgomery, from Northwestern University, commended Taylor on inaugurating this unique form of contest.
18. The Eulogs carry out the aeronautical theme in their spring banquet.
21. Dr. Harold Paul Sloan of New York City speaks in chapel.
24. The Senior class present the educational scene, "Les Miserables."
25. The Mnanka banquet.
26. Kokomo-Taylor day.
28. Girls Glee Club is presented in concert.
29. Coming-out day for the Seniors.

MAY

1. The Philos give to us the old idea of a true literary program.
2. Inter-class track. Inter-class tennis. Juniors give Seniors an outing to "Laughing Water Lodge."
8. Angie Ockenga is presented in an organ recital.
9. The Eureka banquet.
13. Faith Birdsall and Richard Terry in a joint recital.
15. Men's Glee Club Concert.
16. The Soangetaha Banquet. Inter-society track meet.
22. Thalo mock faculty in the last program of the year.
30. Philo-Thalo tennis series. Educational screen picturing The World War.

JUNE

5. Athletic Association banquet.
7. Baccalaureate Sunday.
8. Artist's program.
9. Alumni banquet.
10. Dr. Ira Hargett delivers commencement address to Seniors. And as Doug closed the family album, "Thassall!"

A Light Paint

Nut: "I have found out how to make luminous paint out of any kind of paint."

Pro.: "How?"

Nut: "Put an electric light in it." —Joseph Wm. Schilling.

"Do you carry B-eliminators?"

"No, sir, but we have roach powder and some fly swatters." —Life.

Well, So Long, John, Dear

"Immediately after the ceremony the bride left for a brief honeymoon to the Twin Cities."

Rastus: "Did you all wear dem flowers I done sent you?"

Mandy: "I didn't wear nothing else but."

Rastus: "Lawdy, where did you pin 'em?"

Use A Bathtub

Never break your bread or roll in your soup.—Etiquette hint in an English paper.

His Mistake

"You look good enough to eat," gushed the enraptured youth.

"Well, I'm hungry enough to," replied the girl insinuatingly.

Ma: "Where's the cow, Johnnie?"

Johnnie: "I can't get her home; she's down by the railroad track flirting with the tobacco sign."

New Popular Song

Voice Over Phone: "How much is coal now?"

Dealer: "Eighteen-ninety a ton."

Voice: "Ha-ha! I gotta oil burner." —American Legion Weekly.

Prof. Furbay: "If you took a magnifying glass and looked into a dog's lungs, what would you find?"

Boughton: "I don't know, is it air?"

Furbay: "Nope—the seat of his pants."

Mr. Deyo: "What's more disagreeable than a woman with a crying baby?"

Mr. Kjolseth: "Why, the baby, of course!"

We understand there are three controls on the parlor radio—one dial, a key switch, and Miss Vandament.

Minister: "Well, well, I should have thought that the last thing your husband would ever do would be to drown himself."

The wife: "It was."

News Item

"Long Beach—A vertical race is scheduled for next Saturday at the flying field. Competing aimen will climb to 5,000 feet, turn the noses of their crafts toward the ground and race down. The first one to land will win a silver cup. Mr. J. J. Mottrell, a local undertaker, is donating the cup."

"No man's lips have ever touched hers—so she swears."

"Well, you can hardly blame the girl now can you?"

Geo. Lee, practice teaching Biology: "Now, Charles, do we eat the flesh of the whale?"

Charles: "Y-y-es, sir."

Geo.: "And what do you do with the bones?"

Charles (very nervously): "We l-l-eave them on the s-side of our plates."

"Team! Team! Let's go!" yelled the farmer.

Mr. Bishop: "Talk about results from advertising! The other day I advertised for a night watchman, and that night the office was robbed."

Snapshots

This is the way you looked to us
As you went your various ways;
These are pictures, but pictures plus
Memories of happy days.

Big feature in T. U. stadium! Crowds throng to see the Wisconsin-Bird House football game.

Among the high lights—Biladeaux in spectacular play is knocked out. Clymer and Coldiron come to rescue as do water-carrier Elizabeth Stuart and first aid Mary Rice.

And the Big Six look on!

We took the air one day last fall,
 Schisler, Lew, and us all.
 Don prefers the lure of the road,
 But I ask you to unburden this load:
 Does Cleo prefer his books?

What a bad effect it has had on Albert and Talmadge.

Daddy Watkins takes time out,
 To see what it is all about;
 Freddie looks as if he'd like to too,
 For, he sees "couples," if only a few.
 And Merritt, Spande and Jim think it a huge joke.

The picture at the very top of the page?
Only the Seniors—be not amazed!
They gave us the new walnut gym floor,
And made us take notice all the more
When they challenged the Faculty and Melting Pot team.

And as for our society yell leaders,
They have wim, wigor, and vitality.

Of our illustrious Seniors!

Though only a few,

We know that they

Them, justice do.

We feature Echo and Gem,
Don't you rather envy them?
I mean the food and fun;
Not all the work which was done.

And here's Plathelmenthes,

Our pride and joy.

Forget not, too, Old Charlie, m'boy!

Zoo students—here's the rabbit

Which—well, got to be a habit!

Note: Kenn'ys on this page to add "local color."

Kitchen force drama—quite enough said!
 Glen Hawkins sleepily holds up his head.
 Doesn't Postmaster Griffiths believe in signs?
 For signs and art work, we recommend Rhines!

Snow means snowmen.
 Remember when Miss Howard helped build this one?

When Bonnie Jean starts mixing gruel,
And "Betty" and "Foxy" trot home from school,

When "Skeet" sweeps cobwebs out of the sky,

And Doug and Esther shake hands so shy,
When Peggy Jean dons her all class outfit,
And Jimmie poses as a poor half wit—

Then it is time to take their pictures.

P. S. Jimmie is not really a half wit. He just lost his head about Louise.

"Prof." pauses and poses with poise.
 "Bernie" and "Lukie" make lots of noise.
 There's a burglar alarm on Furbay's ice box.
 So the boys in the center have not tried its locks.
 Fritts, the student! James, catch his pose.
 And then catch Peggy's before she goes.

Foxy playing baseball?
 Hanzo posing for us all?
 Elizabeth between two men?
 Al and Glad again?

Well—Two puritans, three immigrants and
 Prof. just look on and say,
 "It must be so—even if it isn't so?"

Children do play,
On Class Day!

The class presidents look on with stately scorn.

'Tis wrong!! Two are taking part in the festivities!
